Meſſieurs HALL and SELLERS,

The preſent exorbitant Price of all Kinds of Butchers Meat, renders it neceſſary ſome Steps ſhould be taken to diſcover the Cauſe, and, if poſſible, remove it. The following being the Plan of an Aſſociation in the City of London for the ſame Purpoſe, which is juſt come to hand, you are requeſted to inſert it in your Gazette, for the Peruſal and Conſideration of the Inhabitants of this City.

Yours, &c. S. R.

Chapter Coffee-Houſe, Pater Noſter Row, March 10, 1772.

ASSOCIATION for reducing the EXORBITANT PRICE of BUTCHERS MEAT.

THE preſent Members, who have already ſubſcribed upwards of Fifteen Hundred Pounds, think it incumbent on them to ſubmit the following Plan to the Public, in hopes it will meet with their Approbation and Support.

That a Public Subſcription for this Purpoſe be immediately opened; and, as ſoon as TEN THOUSAND POUNDS are ſubſcribed, a general Meeting be held, in order to take the Senſe of the whole Body upon the Plan propoſed. At which Time a Call, not exceeding 10l. per Cent. be made on all the Sums ſubſcribed, in order to carry the Scheme into immediate Execution.

That a Committee of of the Subſcribers be choſen at the ſaid general Meeting, in order to conduct the Affairs of the Society; any of whom be a Quorum.

That the Committee be empowered to meet, from Time to Time, to enquire into the Cauſes of the preſent exorbitant Price of BUTCHERS MEAT, in order to diſcover, whether it ariſes from a real Scarcity of Cattle, or whether it does not (as is more reaſonably to be preſumed) take its Origin from the Number of different Profits which are made by the Middle Men, who interpoſe between the Grazier and the Butcher; and, by their Influence on the Markets, greatly enrich themſelves, by oppreſſing both; which Oppreſſion muſt ultimately fall upon the Conſumer.

That, as a probable Means of obtaining the Remedy ſo much wiſhed for, the Committee be empowered to ſet forth Advertiſements in the News-papers, both of Town and Country, particularly in thoſe Counties which graze moſt Cattle, and make Propoſals, inviting the Graziers to offer Terms, upon which they will undertake to deliver certain Quantities or Lots of fat Cattle, fit for Slaughter, free of all Expence of Conveyance. The Contractors to give Security for the due Performance of their Agreements.

That the Committee be empowered to ſend down an Agent or Agents, properly qualified, into the grazing Counties, to purchaſe Cattle; and alſo to provide proper Fields near London, for receiving them.

That the Committee be empowered to diſpoſe of the Cattle in ſuch Manner as ſhall appear to them beſt calculated to anſwer the Purpoſes of this Aſſociation.

That the Committee be empowered, in caſe they ſhall find it neceſſary, to provide Slaughter-houſes at convenient Parts of the Town, and likewiſe proper Men to attend them, in order that they may, if it ſhould appear expedient, cauſe the Cattle to be brought from the Society's Fields, and Places of Reception, unto their Slaughter-houſes, and there be ſold to the Butchers for ready Money only; not leſs than one Side in a Lot, nor more than four; at ſuch ſaving Prices to the Society, as ſhall reimburſe them in Coſt and Charges, and no more.

That the Committee be empowered to publiſh weekly the Prices at which they ſell the Meat to the Butchers.

That it be recommended to the Committee to uſe their beſt Endeavours to put the Laws now in being in Force againſt all Ingroſſers, Regrators, and Foreſtallers; and to embrace every proper Opportunity of that Kind which may offer.

That it be recommended to the Committee to correſpond with the Aſſociations now on Foot at Briſtol, Glouceſter, and elſewhere; as, by ſuch mutual Communication, the general Purpoſes of PUBLIC GOOD, may be the more readily accompliſhed.

By Captain LOXLEY, arrived here from London, and Capt. SMITH, from Briſtol; and by Capt. TAYLOR, arrived in Virginia from Glaſgow, we have the following Advices.

MARSEILLES, February 17.

THE Daniſh Squadron, which is at anchor in our road, having fixed a forge for their uſe on the ſhore oppoſite where the fleet lay, ſent proviſions twice a day to the workmen employed at it. The 5th, at ſeven in the evening, the crew of the Chaloupe deſtined for this ſervice, were deceived by a light from a houſe which they took to be that at the forge; and having a briſk wind, they ſteered towards it, but ſtruck upon ſome rocks, which they could not ſee for the darkneſs of the night. Of thirty perſons, of which number the crew conſiſted, ten were loſt, and the remainder were luckily taken up next morning by a veſſel from the Lazaret of Pomegue.

Paris, Feb. 28. A late member of the parliament of Rouen ſhot himſelf a few days ago through the head in cold blood, after having written a billet, which was found on his table in theſe words: My advice was not aſked when I came into the world, therefore I think myſelf at liberty to go out of it without conſulting any one.

Warſaw, Feb. 29. Captain Wrangel is arrived here this moment, with advice that the preliminaries of peace between Ruſſia and the Porte, had juſt been ſettled and ſigned at the army of Count Romanzow, by that General and a Miniſter Plenipotentiary from the Grand Signor, both duly authoriſed for that purpoſe by their reſpective Courts; and that afterwards the Ottoman Miniſter had detached Couriers to all the Courts in friendſhip with the Porte, to inform them of this event.

Auſtria, Feb. 29. A report is ſpread, that 12,000 Turks having paſſed the Danube near Giurgewo, the Ruſſians ſuffered them to advance quietly, but afterwards ſurrounding them on all ſides, totally defeated them, wounding their Commandant, whom they took priſoner, and carried to Buchareſt.

Brandenburgh, Feb. 23. The 3d of February, Major General Belling received advice that Mazowiecki, Marſhal of the Confederates, and commander of the confederacies of Cujavia, Dobrzyn, and Lithuania, conſiſting of ſeveral thouſands ſtrong, was endeavouring to penetrate through the Pruſſian line, and march towards Cujavia. On this advice M. Belling went to meet him, with a detachment of a hundred horſe of Kowalſki's regiment, ſome foot, and one piece of cannon. He found Mazowiecki near the cloyſter of Zerzelnow. After cutting to pieces thirty of the van-guard of the Confederates, the reſt retired with the greateſt precipitation, and gave up their deſign of penetrating through the Pruſſian line.

Hamburgh, March 3. The 25th ult. Count Struenſee had his third Examination. We are aſſured that the Queſtions to be put to him are in Number ſix Hundred and thirty, and that in his three Examinations he had not given Anſwers to above two Hundred. The ſame Day his Horſes, together with thoſe of Count Brandt (which are moſtly Engliſh Ones, and excellent in their Kind) were ſold by Auction. This gives Reaſon to think that the Fate of theſe two Noblemen is fixed, and there are ſome who ſay that an Eccleſiaſtick had been admitted to viſit the latter.

Altona, March 6. The Engliſh Courier who paſſed through this City lately for London was accompanied by the Sieur Holberg, a Courier from the Daniſh Cabinet. The Mercury of this Place, dated February 20th, ſays: "We paſs by our Advices from Copenhagen, as very uncertain; Time, however, muſt diſcover what is going forward."

Hamburgh, March 13. Letters from Copenhagen, dated the 10th inſtant, adviſe, that the Miniſters of State, Counts de Thott and Schack-Rathlou, accompanied by Mr. Keith, ſet out on the 8th for Helſingor, (where the Queen is confined) on an important commiſſion.

Edinburgh, March 21. It gives us Pleaſure when we can inform the Public of any new Species of Manufacture erected in this Part of the Kingdom. A new Invention has lately been diſcovered at Leith, for working black Silk Lace, or white Thread Lace, in a a Loom, to imitate any Pattern whatever; and the Lace done in this Way looks full as well as if ſewed, and comes much cheaper. It is done of any Breadth, from three Inches to three Quarters of a Yard wide. The ſame Manufacturer has alſo made an Improvement on Carpets to imitate any Figures that may be drawn or painted on Paper, and much cheaper than ſuch Carpets have been ſold for in any Part of the Kingdom. Several of the Nobility and Gentry have viewed theſe Works, and expreſſed their Satisfaction at the Ingenuity of Mr. Brotherſtone, the Inventor, who we hope will meet with that Encouragement which he ſo juſtly merits.

Extract of a Letter from London, March 16.

"There is Reaſon to believe that there will ſoon be various Changes in the public Employments. I doubt not that moſt of their Places may be very well ſupplied; but I hope Lord North will continue, becauſe I know not the Man capable of ſucceeding him. Integrity, Capacity, and Application, are not eaſily to be found in one Perſon."

LONDON, February 25.

Yeſterday died, much lamented by the curious in the phænomena of nature, the noted Chevalier Deſcaizeaux, who reſided for thirty years in a garret within the rules of the Fleet. He has left, by his will, his tragedy of Turnus, between the managers of our theatres and the King of France.

March 9. His Majeſty, we are told, has been pleaſed to compliment the Ducheſs of Argyle with a valuable ſett of jewels, and to write a letter, graciouſly condeſcending to thank her for having ſat in the Preſence Chamber, as the Repreſentative of the Queen, during the interval between the deceaſe and interment of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales.

The celebrated Monteſquieu affirms, that the principle of government is deſtroyed when a Prince miſtakes his authority, his ſituation, and the love of the people; when the firſt dignities are marks of the firſt ſervitude, and when great men have loſt all popular reſpect, and become the low tools of arbitrary power; or when men of rank have ſuch mean and abject ſouls, as to grow vain of their pompous ſervitude, and think that the ſame duty which devotes them to their King, exempts them from all duty to their country.----Who will not ſay that this is a true picture of the preſent times?

On the Premier's being aſked how he liked the Britiſh Miniſter's behaviour at Copenhagen? he replied, "His fortune is made."

Yeſterday his Royal Highneſs Prince Erneſt, of Mecklenburgh, her Majeſty's brother, paid a viſit to his Highneſs the Duke of Cumberland, in Pall-mall.

March 11. We are informed that inſtructions are now preparing at the Admiralty-Office, which are to be ſent with all convenient ſpeed to Admiral Harland in the Eaſt-Indies.

March 12. On Wedneſday there was a very numerous meeting of the proprietors of Eaſt India Stock, at their houſe in Leadenhall-ſtreet. The Court opened at twelve o'clock, and after the clerk had, as uſual, read over the minutes of the laſt meeting, the chairman acquainted the proprietors, "that as the directors had hinted to the proprietary at the laſt court, that the affairs in Bengal were in a diſagreeable ſituation, and that the remedying them was then under conſideration, he was now to acquaint them, that after much debate and attention, the directors, with the advice of ſome of the moſt learned in the law in theſe kingdoms, had digeſted a plan for their better regulation, which, with their concurrence, was ready to be laid before the parliament." The opinion of the court being to have them read, the clerk accordingly read them, of which the following form the principal articles.

"That the Preſident and Council of Bengal ſhould not, for the future, be permitted to trade in any one reſpect whatſoever; that eighteen months time ſhould be allowed them to ſell off ſuch goods as might lie upon their hands, and collect in their debts; and for the due obſervance of this, they were to take an oath declarative of the above, the breaking of which was to ſubject them to all the conſequences of perjury, as by law eſtabliſhed, as well as fines and impriſonment.

"That every free merchant ſhould, on the commencement of this act, be obliged to take out a freſh licence, under ſuch reſtrictions as the Preſident and Council ſhould think fit, under the Penalty of fine and impriſonment.

"That no ſubject of the kingdom being in India, ſhall be permitted to buy up any warlike ſtores, on the ſame penalty; and that for the more ready detection of all ſuch offences, half the Forfeitures to go to the informers.

"That his Majeſty be empowered, by the advice of his Privy Council, to grant a new charter to the Mayor's court in Bengal, conſtituting a Chief Juſtice, and three other Judges, who were to be called the Supreme Court of Judicature; and that all criminal matters were to be tried by Jury, and civil ones by depoſitions; notwithſtanding, nevertheleſs, ſubject to the appeal of the Preſident and Council, and from thence to his Majeſty and Privy Council here."

Orders are given for ſix veſſels, now in readineſs, to proceed on their voyage to Falkland's Iſland; they are laden with ſtores and proviſions.

Mr. Bolts, who has publiſhed a work on the India affairs, which will probably cover the Nabobs with confuſion, tells us in that publication, that he has been plundered of ſixty thouſand pounds out of ninety, which he had acquired in the fair purſuits of commerce, and for which he has commenced actions at law againſt his principal oppreſſors. Mr. Bolts is not yet thirty years of age, and is a Dutchman, born however of Engliſh parents.

A BEAUTIFUL and new Edition of SERMONS, on practical ſubjects. By ROBERT WALKER, one of the Miniſters of the High Church of Edinburgh.

To the PUBLIC.

The Editor of theſe SERMONS was encouraged to reprint them, from the very favourable reception which a few copies of the Britiſh edition met with in this part of America. The Author of them, who is now living, is at once an ornament to the Church of Scotland. Nothing more need be ſaid in favour of them, as the beauty of their ſtile---the livelineſs of their imagery---the aptneſs of their illuſions, joined with the purity and ſimplicity of thoſe evangelical doctrines which are inculcated in them, are amply ſufficient to recommend themſelves.

PHILADELPHIA, NEW-CASTLE, and BALTIMORE STAGES,

For the Conveyance of Paſſengers and Goods, to either of ſaid Places.

NOTICE is hereby given, that a Stage-boat, compleatly fitted, for the reception of goods and paſſengers, and commanded by Joſeph Tatlow, is now ready to ply betwixt Philadelphia and New-Caſtle, and will leave the Crooked Billet wharff, in Philadelphia, every Sunday (except when the navigation is obſtructed by ice) and proceed to New-Caſtle, where a convenient Stage-waggon, kept by Robert Furniſs, will ſet off on Mondays, with the goods and paſſengers, for French-town, on Elk-river, from whence a Stage-boat, kept by Thomas Henderſon, will, on Tueſdays, convey the goods, &c. to Baltimore-Town, in Maryland, and there will lay till Sundays, at Mr. Benjamin Howard's wharff, then return to French-town, where Robert Furniſs's Waggon will meet him on Mondays and ſet off immediately for New-Caſtle, from whence Joſeph Tatlow's Boat will proceed with the goods and paſſengers to Philadelphia, where the Bordentown and Burlington Stage-boats will receive any goods or paſſengers bound for New-York.

This being the neareſt way by land and water from the city of Philadelphia to Baltimore-Town, we hope it will induce Gentlemen and Ladies to try this Stage, in preference to any other, as they may depend on the greateſt care and punctuality by each of us, in the performance of the Stages, and as they can go this way with a greater certainty from delays on their journey, than any other yet found out, and at the ſame rates as are paid by Chriſtiana Bridge, or Hamburgh Landing.

N. B. Goods will be received and delivered by Mr. Mark Alexander, in Baltimore-Town, in the abſence of the Stage-boat; by Mr. Thomas Friſby Henderſon, at French-town; by Robert Furniſs, at New-Caſtle; and by Mrs. Terry, at the Crooked Billet, in Philadelphia. ¶7t.6d.

WARSAW, March 4.

THE important news of signing the preliminaries of peace between Ruſſia and the Porte is fully confirmed. We do not yet know the particulars, only that they are entirely to the ſatisfaction of the Empreſs of Ruſſia, and were ſigned through the mediation of the Court of Vienna. The ratification will take place at the next congreſs, but it is not yet known where it will be held.

LONDON.

March 12. The Earl of Hillſborough had yeſterday a grand levee of Colony Governors, Agents, and Weſt-India Merchants, at his Lordſhip's houſe in Hanover Square.

March 14. Lord Bute ſeems now again to come into play, as continual meſſages are paſſing and repaſſing from him to Lord North, particularly ſince the Marriage Bill has been in agitation, ſo that there is no doubt but that his influence, though more ſecret, is ſtill as powerful as ever.

The Patriots ſeem all in a decline, owing, it is imagined, to a conſumption, occaſioned by the proſpect of a removal of the Miniſtry being ſo very remote.

As ſoon as the Duke of Cumberland found that what he deſired as to himſelf, "I hope you won't hurt me," was agreed to, he gave up all Oppoſition, and has made his Children, and, ſhould his preſent Dutcheſs die, himſelf too, Slaves to his Brother, in the moſt important Article of Life.

March 16. In a letter publiſhed in the Hague Gazette, of the 9th inſtant, in defence of the Revolution in Denmark, it is ſaid, "That Count Struenſee, not content with having overturned, by his credit and artifices, the ancient Conſtitution of the country, the power he had uſurped was ſo arbitrary (by miniſtring to the foibles of the King, and being ſkreened by the Reigning Queen) that every one thought himſelf tranſplanted to Conſtantinople. It is inconteſtable (ſays the Writer) that he encouraged licentiouſneſs, and every corruption of manners; and that he and his partiſans, turned Religion into ridicule, without ſo much as ſaving appearances. It muſt (ſays the Writer) be but rendering juſtice to the Danes, to ſay, that they tenderly love their King, and his hereditary Houſe; that they love their Country; but will not ſuffer themſelves to be the vile Slaves of a deſpotic Miniſter, and his wicked adherents."---After ſaying much of the virtues of the Queen Dowager, whom nothing but her love of Denmark could have drawn from her natural love for retirement; and the zeal of her ſon, determined to die, rather than ſuffer the glory of his Houſe to periſh; we are told they deigned to come forward.---The account of the ſeizure of the Count and his party at the Maſquerade differs nothing from the former ones; and ſpeaking of the Reigning Queen, the Writer ſays, "at nine in the morning Queen Caroline Matilda, with her daughter Louiſa Matilda, ſet out for Cronenbourg."--In giving an account of the King's riding through the principal ſtreets to ſhew himſelf the next day, it tells us, he was attended by his brother, who, with his mother, are the darlings of the people.--No mention is made throughout the letter of the King's ſon, and ſome think it probable that no more will be heard of him.

A certain General Officer, whoſe regiment is now in Ireland, has received a meſſage from his Majeſty, acquainting him, that he muſt either give up his regiment, or ſtand a General Court Martial. The cauſe of this meſſage is ſaid to be, that the General has pocketed a year's clothing of his regiment, whilſt it was upon ſervice abroad.

Private letters from Copenhagen confirm, that the King of Denmark has repeatedly deſired to ſee his Queen, but the authors of the late Revolution have always found ſome pretence to prevent their meeting; and it is ſaid, that in order to avoid all further applications of that kind, it was determined to remove the Queen to Halbourg in Jutland.

March 17. Somerſet Houſe is fitting up, and new Furniture putting into the Kitchen, in order to make it complete for the Reception of the Queen of Denmark, who will certainly be over ſome time in May next.

The firſt Families belonging to a certain northern Dominion ſtill continue to emigrate, on various Pretences; though the Truth is, they are ſo much alarmed at the new Inquiſition lately introduced into their Country, that they prefer any Climate, where they can enjoy theſe common Bleſſings of the Individual, Freedom and Security, to the moſt affluent Situation within its Graſp.

This morning ſome Diſpatches, ſaid to be of great Importance, were received by the Ruſſian Ambaſſador.

Yeſterday Morning the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and many others of the dignified Clergy, were ſent for early by his Majeſty to the Queen's Palace, on Buſineſs of great Importance.

The parliamentary Nabobs are extremely pleaſed with the Method of fighting the Marriage Bill Inch by Inch, as the more it is delayed, the leſs time there will be to enquire into their Proceedings in the preſent Seſſion; for twenty Millions of People muſt groan unpitied till the junior Branches of the Royal Family are ſtripped of their firſt Rights, not only as Men, but as Subjects of England.

Lord Camden, in ſpeaking againſt the Marriage Bill, actually urged an Argument which made conſiderably in its Favour; this was the Information he gave the Houſe of Lords, relative to a Deſcendent from the Crown, and who he ſaid kept an Alehouſe. Such a Piece of Intelligence many Gentlemen thought mal-a-propos, as they imagined the controuling Power granted to the King would be leſs unreaſonable, if it prevented the Poſſibility of ſimilar Diſgraces on the Royal Family.

In a late Conference between Lord Barrington and the Premier, it is ſaid that the former declared his Intention of reſigning very ſhortly.

It is ſaid that ſome Diſpatches of great Importance were received yeſterday from our Ambaſſador at the Hague.

A letter from Hamburgh, March 6.

"After the Examination of Mr. Berger, Profeſſor of Phyſic, and firſt Phyſician to his Majeſty, Leave was given that he might be ſhaved, have the Uſe of his own Bed and his Books, that he might have Tobacco, and alſo Knives and Forks. From hence it is conjectured that he has cleared himſelf of the Crimes laid to his Charge.

"The ſame Letters add, that they begin to treat the State Priſoners with more Lenity than heretofore, allowing them the Uſe of their Books; and that the commiſſarial Inquiſitors appeared ſatisfied with the Openneſs and Honeſty of the Anſwers given by Count Struenſee, in his laſt Examination.

"The People are very turbulent at Copenhagen. The frequent Ordinances publiſhed, forbidding, under the ſevereſt Penalties, any Perſons being found in the Streets or in Coffee-houſes in the Night, appear to authorize the above Aſſertion."

When the Queen of Denmark was firſt ſeized, Count Rantzau behaved with the greateſt inſolence and brutality, making uſe of ſeveral opprobrious expreſſions in the Engliſh language, which it ſeems the Count underſtands. As her Majeſty was impriſoned early in the morning, the Q---- D------ and her emiſſaries, were aſſiduous to prejudice the minds of the people, by making them believe that her Majeſty was taken in bed with Struenſee. It is thought that had not theſe and ſimiliar villainous ſtratagems been made uſe of with ſo much art and ſucceſs, the people would certainly have proceeded in a body to the Caſtle of Cronenbourg, and demanded the immediate enlargement of their Queen, as, two days before her impriſonment, ſhe was univerſally the object of admiration and eſteem.

March 18. A Gentleman lately arrived from Faulkland's Iſlands aſſerts, that the place is ſo extremely barren, that not a ſhrub will grow to the height of two feet.

Extract from a private Letter from a Gentleman at Hamburgh, brought by the laſt Mail.

"How hard the fate of one who was lately flattered with the title of a Sovereign Princeſs--To be denied the privilege granted to the loweſt wretch in the country of her nativity, which is, to be tried by their equals, and to have their accuſers brought face to face before them. Directly oppoſite it her ſituation--Accuſed and tried in her abſence by wretches intereſted in her deſtruction; her pretended accomplices threatened with tortures which humanity cannot ſtand againſt---and conſequently muſt anſwer ſuch queſtions the Inquiſitors pleaſe to put, in the manner the Inquiſitors chuſe to have them anſwered. Were the accuſations againſt her ever ſo well authenticated from ſuch a Tribunal, no honeſt or humane perſon would give the leaſt credit to them.---Well may ſhe ſay with David, Let me fall into the hands of God, and not into thoſe of man!"

Advices are received from Liſbon, that one of the Portugueſe Miniſters is diſgraced, and that a total change in the Miniſtry is expected to take place there daily.

March 19. The following removes are now much talked of: Lord Suffolk to be Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, in the room of Lord Townſhend, who is to reſign, and Lord Shelburne to ſucceed the Earl of Suffolk, as one of the Secretaries of State.

Extract of a Letter from Copenhagen, March 1.

"A ſingular accident has happened within theſe few days, which has produced a dawn of hope for our unfortunate Queen. The Dowager, who is the bittereſt of her enemies, going into her carriage about a fortnight ſince, hurt her leg againſt the ſtep, which inflamed, and put on an appearance of mortification, a circumſtance peculiarly dangerous to a woman at her time of life (one between forty and fifty years of age) and which ſeemed likely to be attended with ſuch ſerious conſequences, that the Phyſicians and Surgeons of the Court were of opinion that an amputation muſt take place; one Cleveland, an Engliſh Student of Phyſic, who has lately paid a viſit to the Univerſity, oppoſed the practice of the Daniſh Faculty, and declared he would forfeit his head, if he did not preſerve her Majeſty from the fatal effects they had prognoſticated.

"The Queen Dowager immediately ſent for him, and put herſelf under his care, and by his exhibiting the bark, and ſome other judicious treatment, ſhe is now in a fair way of recovery. During his attendance on her Majeſty, he repeatedly, as it is ſaid, mentioned the ſeverity with which the reigning Queen was treated; and it is now certain that her condition is made much more agreeable to her than it has been ſince her confinement.

"Believe none of the reports you hear of the confeſſions of Count Struenſee or his friends, for nothing here tranſpires at preſent, as the Judges have taken a moſt ſolemn oath, to keep all matters relating to the late extraordinary revolution, a profound ſecret."

We hear that General S. has given in his anſwer to the charges laid before the King againſt him, and that the evidences are expected ſoon from Ireland to appear againſt him, at a General Court Martial.

Providence in general has wiſely ordered it, that every Father who is a Miſer, ſhould have a Son who is a Spendthrift. This was never more ſtrongly exemplified than in the caſe of Lord H------, whoſe two ſons, upon their father's death, are likely to diſſipate his immenſe fortune in half the time which he amaſſed it.

Six ſail of the line, and four frigates, are ordered to be fitted out, to reinforce our ſhips ſtationed at Barbados and Jamaica.

They write from Breſt, that two French men of war, one of 70, and the other of 64 guns, are both loſt, together with their crews, in the Gulph of Florida.

There are letters, by a ſhip arrived in the River from Dunkirk, which ſay, that they have had ſuch blowing weather on the French coaſt, that upwards of twenty ſail of merchant ſhips were loſt in the courſe of laſt week, and that moſt of the crews were drowned; the coaſt is covered with wrecks.

Laſt Monday night orders were ſent to Portſmouth for ſuch ſhips as are ready for ſea to ſail immediately for Spithead, where they are to be joined by ſome ſhips from Plymouth and Chatham; where this fleet is bound, is kept a profound ſecret.

A few days ago an account arrived of a treaty being concluded between the Porte and the Houſe of Auſtria, the terms of which were, that the Porte ſhall pay to Auſtria annually, eight millions of crowns, on condition that the latter furniſh 40,000 men, to act at the diſpoſal of the former; and moreover keep a ſeparate corps on the borders of Hungary. Four millions of the money are paid. But yeſterday an account came, which it is ſaid may be depended on, that the preliminary articles of peace are actually ſigned between the Ruſſians and Turks.

From Berlin, the 28th of February, we learn, that his Excellency Mr. Harris, the Engliſh Miniſter there, has, within this week paſt, had two ſpecial audiences of his Pruſſian Majeſty.

They write from Copenhagen, that his Daniſh Majeſty is to be allowed to viſit the Court of Berlin and Peterſbourg the enſuing ſummer, in order to have a perſonal interview with the Pruſſian and Ruſſian Monarchs.

A certain amiable Prince, whoſe reformation gives univerſal ſatisfaction, and who has now proved himſelf not only a man of ſenſe, but, what is infinitely more valuable, a man of principle, declares, that if ever there is a parliamentary diſſolution of his marriage, there never ſhall be a real one, as he is determined never to forſake the Lady who is morally his wife; but, on the contrary, reſolved to ſhew the moſt inflexible regard to the moſt ſacred of all engagements.

It has been often obſerved of the Duke of Cumberland, that while he floated down the dangerous ſtream of diſſipation, he was a great favourite at Court; it is now, however, obſerved, that the Court pretends to morality, while it is labouring to deſtroy one of the firſt ordinances of God, and attempts to give the pleaſure of the Crown, a pre-eminence over the firſt inſtitutions of Society.

General Conway's oppoſition to the Marriage Bill gives much offence at Court, as it is an unalterable article in the miniſterial creed, that placemen ſhould have no conſciences; and the General, beſides a very lucrative regiment, poſſeſſing a very lucrative place in the ordnance.

A Correſpondent ſays, that the following intelligence may be depended on, as it was communicated to the Marquis Pignatelli, the Neapolitan Ambaſſador, by his friend at Copenhagen:---The Queen of Denmark has never been confined, but has retired to the country with her Court and her Guards. The Count Struenſee is already under ſentence of baniſhment, and the old miniſtry is reſtored.

The victualling officer has received orders to furniſh three months proviſions for a fleet of ſhips, ſuppoſed to be intended for Denmark.

Advice was received yeſterday from Copenhagen, that the King of Denmark has again earneſtly intreated to ſee the Queen, but was abſolutely refuſed, upon this he endeavoured to go privately to her, which was diſcovered by the Queen Dowager, who thereupon placed ſome Gentlemen about him, whom ſhe could truſt, to watch him night and day, ſo that there is no poſſibility of his obtaining his deſire.

It is very certain that frequent and repeated advices have been received from the Weſt-Indies, of the daily inſults offered by the Spaniards in that quarter of the world to the Britiſh flag; many ſmall veſſels have been taken, under pretence of illicit trade, by the Guarda Coſtas, and the men confined. It is well known to the Miniſtry that there are now above 600 Engliſh ſeamen in Spaniſh priſons in America, under the above pretence: Every expreſs that arrives from Gibraltar, comes fraught with freſh inſtances of the inſolence of Spain, even in Europe.

The report of the day is, that Lord Gower will ſucceed Lord Townſhend, as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; and that Lord Camden will be appointed Preſident of the Council. The latter was at Court laſt Sunday, at which place he had not appeared for ſome time paſt.

March 20. The men of war intended for the South Seas, are ordered to be ready, at Portſmouth, for ſailing the beginning of next month.

M. de Gronicht, the perſon formerly mentioned as having ingratiated himſelf into the good graces of the Queen Dowager of Denmark, was formerly an Officer in the Pruſſian ſervice, but committing ſeveral miſdemeanors, he left Berlin, and after wandering through ſeveral countries, he fixed his reſidence at Copenhagen, of which place he is a native. He has been thrice examined, that is, he has had three private interviews with the Dowager and her party. One of the letters which this wretch produced, was ſuppoſed to have been written by Struenſee to the young Queen; it is penned in ſuch a manner as to anſwer the purpoſe, and impreſs on the peoples minds a belief of the young Queen's criminal conduct. Copies of this letter were ſecretly handed about at Copenhagen, but the ſenſible part of the Danes look upon both copy and original as manifeſtly ſpurious. Sham threats of the torture were urged to Gronicht, in order to make him confeſs all he knew, and the Queen Dowager's party boaſt at having now, by his means, diſcovered the whole truth, which they talk (but it is talk only) of laying before the world.

Yeſterday, after the breaking up of the Levee at St. James's, Sir Edward Hawke, who was at Court, had the honour of a conference with his Majeſty; and it is ſaid, that Sir Percy Brett, Vice Admiral of the Blue, will ſhortly be appointed to the command of a ſquadron on an important expedition.

A report was propagated this morning, that Lord North was to reſign, and that the Marquis of Rockingham is to be at the head of the Treaſury, and Mr. Dowdeſwell Chancellor of the Exchequer.

We are aſſured, that it was lately determined to keep ſeveral additional cruiſers upon the Newfoundland ſtation, to prevent the illicit practices of the French, who have of late made very great encroachments upon the coaſt.

March 21. It is ſaid that the Sp----r of a Great Aſſembly having twice voted with the minority on the Marriage Bill, has given much umbrage to a Great Perſonage.

We are told, that if the Queen of Denmark comes here, the honours and indulgences that are to be ſhewn her from the Royal family, will amount to little more than that of a private lady. A public appearance at Court, it is ſaid, ſhe will alſo be denied. This is given out to be what will be moſt agreeable to her.

The Duke of Cumberland, much to his honour and humanity, has given to underſtand, that the unfortunate Queen, his ſiſter, ſhall experience in him every kindneſs he is capable of ſhewing; and though it may not be conſonant with Court meaſures, ſays, it is every way agreeable to the dictates of his own conſcience; rules which few courtiers pay any regard to.

March 24. The Earl of Chatham has not been once in town the whole winter, though various expreſſes were ſent to him from the oppoſition, begging his attendance on the Marriage Bill. His Lordſhip ſeems to think, that letting the Court have its own way is the moſt likely method of puniſhing it, and is therefore determined to make no future objections to meaſures, for which he is ſenſible there is a large previous majority.

An event happened within theſe few days, which is likely to be productive of a war. Certain advices have been received by our Court, that the French are embarking 10,000 troops for the Eaſt-Indies. Lord Rochford immediately waited on the French Ambaſſador, who declared, that the abovementioned 10,000 troops were only intended to relieve the like number, now in the iſlands of Mauritius and Bourbon. This anſwer not being ſatisfactory, a Courier was immediatly diſpatched to Verſailles with a ſpirited remonſtrance. Some of the troops are ſailed; and it is ſuppoſed that a great fleet will be ordered to the Eaſt-Indies, to watch the motions of the French. The French regular forces in the Eaſt-Indies, ſhould the above 10,000 be permitted to go, will amount to 25,000 men.

When the King of Denmark was in England, on his return home, he took over with him ſeveral Engliſh ſervants, who ſince the late revolutions in that Kingdom have been diſcharged, without a ſhilling to bear their expences home.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, March 17.

"Some Letters from Paris mention, that private accounts have been received there of the death of the Queen of Portugal."

A letter from Tunis, dated January 1, ſays, "A French Captain who arrived here yeſterday ſays, that an Engliſh ſhip was loſt off the Iſle of Candia, the crew of which, after having reached the ſhore in the boat, were upon the point of being murdered by the inhabitants, who took them for Ruſſians; but the French Conſul came to their relief juſt in time, and claimed them from the Pacha, who reſtored them after great heſitation."

March 26. Some expreſſes of a very great import, arrived at ſix o' clock this morning from Sir Joſeph Yorke, at the Hague. They were immediately carried to Lord North, who waited on his Majeſty with them, and had a conference.

A correſpondent has deſired the inſertion of the following conundrum, with the anſwer:---Why is Lord N--th like a raw Country Girl?---Becauſe he granted the Laſt Favour for a Ribband!

The Preſident Monteſquieu tells us, in his Spirit of Laws, that in countries where liberty is moſt eſteemed, there are laws by which a ſingle perſon is deprived of it; "but (ſays he) there are in England what they call bills of attainder." But what would this illuſtrious Frenchman have ſaid, had he lived to ſee the preſent Marriage Bill, where the Royal Family is puniſhed without the imputation of a crime, and a law enacted by a great parliamentary majority, which, it is acknowledged, may do harm, but cannot poſſibly produce the leaſt good to any individual of the community.

The buſineſs which the laſt Meſſengers were charged with to Copenhagen, we are told, was of ſuch a nature, as to be of the utmoſt importance to this kingdom. The opinion of our greateſt men were called for and taken, before this Expreſs was ſent away: It is therefore expected, that a few days will unravel this myſterious affair, which the world has been waiting for with ſuch impatience.

It is a pretty general opinion, that the hard meaſure the Queen of Denmark has met with, and the little ſatisfaction the late Princeſs of Heſſe enjoyed, to mention no other inſtances, will probably operate, to make the riſing female generation unwilling to marry abroad; and as they are not to be allowed to marry at home, the conſequence muſt be, that they will end their days in celibacy. As there are Proteſtant Nunneries for the Royal and better Families in Germany, ſomething of that kind will probably take place here in a few years.

We can aſſure the public, from the beſt authority, that the article, concerning the embarkation of the 10,000 French, is ſtrictly true; and that repeated conferences have been held with the French Ambaſſador, within theſe few days.

Yeſterday morning orders were ſent down to Portſmouth, for the Carysfort frigate to be got ready to ſail with all poſſible ſpeed, with diſpatches for Admiral Rodney at Jamaica.

Yeſterday morning, by order of his Majeſty, Admirals Howe, Keppel, Brett, and Sir Edward Hawke, had the honour of a conference at Buckingham Houſe.

They write from Liſbon, that a Daniſh man of war took fire at ſea about 30 leagues from that port, and all the crew were either drowned, or periſhed in the flames.

We are informed, that a perfect harmony ſubſiſts between the Courts of London and Copenhagen, notwithſtanding all that has been ſaid to the contrary, each of the powers having adopted the maxim, Fiat juſtitia, aut pereat mundus.

Friday laſt, Sir James Stewart, Bart. (who had been many years abroad on account of his being concerned in the late Rebellion, for which he has received his Majeſty's pardon) was preſented by Lord Barrington to his Majeſty, at St. James's, and moſt graciouſly received.

March 27. On Wedneſday a motion was made in the Houſe of Commons, that it be an inſtruction to the Committee, to conſider farther of the ſupply granted to his Majeſty, that they do conſider of a proper encouragement to be given, for more effectually proſecuting ſuch farther diſcoveries, as may be made towards the South Pole, which encouragement has been farther recommended by his Majeſty to the Houſe.

It is aſſerted that his Majeſty has very warmly recommended to Lord North, to bring the preſent high prices of proviſions into ſerious conſideration in the Lower Houſe, and to adopt ſuch plans and regulations as will be beſt calculated to bring immediate relief to the diſtreſſed poor of the Kingdom.

The Committee to whom the management of the above buſineſs is committed, are to meet upon it next week. Lord North is determined ſtrenuouſly to ſupport it.

The Attorney General, we hear, objects to the removal of the 60th regiment from Canada, inſiſting that by Act of Parliament, this regiment is only bound to ſerve in North-America. It is true, the Attorney General is right, with reſpect to the condition on which that regiment was raiſed, and therefore his oppoſition to its removal to Jamaica, where it has been lately ordered, is perfectly proper.

The Government is preparing to ſend out Major Rogers, with proper aſſiſtance, in purſuit of the North-weſt Paſſage; The Lords of Trade have reported in favour of the meaſure, and it now lies at the Treaſury Board, that a proper eſtimate may be made of the expence.

March 28. The Cadets at Woolwich are ſoon to be increaſed from 48 to 100 Men, as in time of War.

The States of Holland have publiſhed a prohibition againſt any of their ſeamen entering into foreign ſervice.

The annuity of 2000l. per annum, which a ſociety of gentlemen, who meet at the Globe Tavern in Fleet-ſtreet, have reſolved to ſettle on Mr. Wilkes, is to be raiſed in the following manner;---300 members to ſubſcribe 4 l. a year each, of which one to be paid by each every quarter---by which they will be able to pay 500l. every month to Mr. Wilkes.

Notwithſtanding the ſilence of all the other papers, it may be depended upon as a fact, that laſt Saturday evening an expreſs arrived from Ireland, relating to the White boys. The meſſenger did not ſtay above two hours, when he returned with an anſwer. The purport of it is ſaid to be, to put all the ringleaders of the mob to death without mercy. Perſons of greater conſequence are ſuppoſed to be concerned in the late riſing of the White boys than moſt people imagine.

From the frequent couriers that paſs between the Courts of London, Madrid, Verſailles, and the Hague, our politicians prognoſticate a freſh rupture in Europe, and even the peace lately concluded between the Ruſſians and Turks, is urged in ſupport of their opinion, as if the former was deſirous of being at leiſure for a new ſcene of hoſtility.

A clauſe is inſerted in the Bill, for the more effectual proceeding againſt perſons ſtanding mute, on their arraignment for felony, or piracy, for extending the proviſions therein, to his Majeſty's Colonies and Plantations in America.

They write from Cadiz, that an Engliſh veſſel arrived lately at Sallee from Tangier, laden with maſts, which are ſuppoſed to be for a new 50 gun man of war, and ſome of the frigates now on the ſtocks.

By a letter from Dunkirk we learn, that two Iriſh Gentlemen, who were viewing the fortifications of that place, were taken into cuſtody by order of the Police, on ſuſpicion of being ſpies.

Whatever the public, by being impoſed upon, may think to the contrary, it is certain that there is now the moſt perfect underſtanding between the Courts of Great Britain and Madrid; the latter are giving daily proofs how much they wiſh to promote the tranquillity, by paying all due deference to every thing that is deſired by our Court; the reports of Spaniſh inſults, ſince the reſignation of Falkland's Iſlands, have no other foundation than the weak brains of a diſappointed herd of ſelf lovers.

Extract of a private letter from Copenhagen.

DEAR SIR,

"When you deſire a particular account of the black ſcenes tranſacting here, you forget where I am, and the danger that attends writing too freely on ſo tickliſh a ſubject. Placed at your eaſe in happy England, you think every land under the ſame juſt laws, under the ſame benign government. Alas! theſe bleſſings have not, as yet, warmed this frozen region, and poor Struenſee will, I am much afraid, be a melancholy example to what height of cruelty the ambition of a wicked woman, aided by a powerful faction, can reach. Your Princeſs, and our Queen, is, I hope, ſafe from perſonal injury; her enemies muſt be contented with blackening her reputation; for this, thanks to the terror of your national reſentment, and the ſpirit of your Ambaſſador, who thundered in the ears of the bloody Senate, Remonſtrances worthy the Repreſentative of the King of Great Britain.

"But the ſituation of the poor abandoned Count is deplorable; after ſuffering an impriſonment, ſevere beyond the conception of an Engliſhman, and enough to break the moſt undaunted ſpirit, he was brought before his judges, or rather his accuſers, loaded with irons, pale from famine, and want of reſt, in a word, a horrid, ſqualid ſpectre.

"Long did he reſiſt every argument, every threat that could be uſed to induce him to accuſe the injured Queen; at laſt, they ordered him to be led to the room where the helliſh inſtruments of torture were arranged, on ſight of which, his ſpirit, totally broken and depreſſed, could withſtand no longer, but in an extaſy of grief and deſpair, he cried out in French, "Human nature cannot bear this!" My honoured, my much injured Sovereign and Benefactreſs, forgive my weakneſs therein. Heaven will vindicate your innocence. Then turning to his conductors, he deſired to be led back to this Court of Inquiſition, and, it is ſaid, confeſſed every thing they wiſhed.

"Adieu, enough of this horrid ſubject, and believe me ever, Yours, &c."

St. James's, March 21. The King has been pleaſed to grant unto James Macpherſon, Eſq; the Offices and Places of Secretary and Clerk of the Council of his Majeſty's province of Weſt-Florida, in North-America, and Regiſter of all grant Patents and Records, of and in the ſaid province.

Whitehall, March 28. The King has been pleaſed to appoint William Moore, Eſq; Attorney General of the iſland of Barbadoes, in America, in the room of Henry Beckles, Eſq; deceaſed.

NEW-YORK, May 18.

Off the Metanzas, Capt. Farquhar, from the Bay, fell in with the Ship Suffolk, Capt. Jerman, from Jamaica for London, who, in the Night of the 24th of April, run on the N. W. Part of the Bahama Bank, Capt. Farquhar himſelf meeting with the like Fate at the ſame Time, as alſo the Sloop Polly from Jamaica, for Philadelphia; the two laſt mentioned ſoon got off, but Captain Jerman, before he could get his Ship afloat, threw overboard 40,000 Feet of Mahogany, 66 Puncheons of Rum, 17 Hogſheads of Sugar, a Stream Cable, a Hawſer, ſome Water Caſks, and Gun-Carriages; and put on board the Hope, 44 Caſks of Rum, 6 Hogſheads of Sugar, 6 Bags of Cotton, ſome Sails, and a Cable; and on board the Polly, 20 Puncheons of Rum, and 17 Bags of Cotton.---The Suffolk afterwards proceeded on her Voyage, and was left well by Capt. Farquhar the 3d Inſtant.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.

On Monday laſt the GENERAL ASSEMBLY met here, and next Day adjourned to the Fourteenth of September next.

On Eaſter Sunday, the 19th ult. departed this Life, of a lingering Illneſs, at Cornwall, his Country Seat, in Hunterdon County, Weſt New-Jerſey, LEWIS STEVENS, Eſq; a Gentleman, whoſe amiable Diſpoſition, and Goodneſs of Heart, endeared him to all who knew him: And, on Wedneſday, the 22d, his Remains were decently interred in St. Thomas's Church, Alexandria.

Died, on the 7th Inſtant, in Kent County, on Delaware, WAITMAN SIPPLE, ſenior, aged 99 Years, wanting 5 Days. This venerable Gentleman had reputably filled the different Characters of Maſter, Neighbour, Father, and Huſband. By great Temperance he prolonged his Life to a good old Age, with a very uncommon Share of Health; by great Application and Induſtry, he acquired a plentiful Fortune, which he generouſly ſhared with the Poor and Diſtreſſed. In domeſtic Life, he was uncommonly happy; he wiſely avoided engaging ſo far in public Diſputes as to interrupt his Repoſe. His Attachments were founded on Principle, and therefore laſting: His Enmities, if he had any, were ſo concealed, as to remain unknown. Faults, no doubt, he had; but they were ſo inconſiderable as to be overlooked. His Virtues were manifold, and ſecured the Eſteem of all who knew him. He has left a great Number of Deſcendents.

"No farther ſeek his Merits to diſcloſe,
Or draw his Frailties from their dread Abode,
(There they alike in trembling Hope repoſe)
The Boſom of his Father and his GOD."
